Aloha Ali'iolani Elementary families and staff,

In alignment with Gov. Josh Green's directive and guidance from the Hawai'i State Department of Education, all public schools including Ali'iolani Elementary School will be closed on Monday, Feb. 9, due to current severe weather conditions.

What this means:

At this time, the closure applies only to Monday, Feb. 9. Any updates regarding reopening or additional closures will be shared as soon as they become available through official school and department communication channels.

Please prioritize your safety and continue to follow guidance from local and state emergency officials.
